Harbor Lane Foods, Inc.

Annual Report 2031

Business Overview

Harbor Lane Foods makes frozen meals and soups sold under four brands in grocery stores across the northern region.

We operate three plants and a central distribution centre, and employ about 2,300 people.

Risk Factors

Prices of wheat, vegetables and packaging can rise quickly. If we cannot pass higher costs on to retailers, our margins would decline.

Three grocery chains buy more than half of our products. The loss of one of them would reduce our sales significantly.

A product recall caused by contamination could damage our brands and lead to costly claims.

Our plants depend on a small number of skilled workers, and labour shortages could limit production.

Legal Matters

We are party to routine claims arising from our business. We do not expect any of them to have a material effect on our results.

Results of Operations

Net sales rose 5% to 618 million. Operating income was 49 million, compared with 44 million the year before.

Capital spending was 31 million, mostly for a new soup line at the Brookfield plant.
